14th Annual Bargain Booksale scheduled for April 10, 11 & 12

The booksale features thousands of books for readers of all ages.

The Friends of the Houston Public Library hope to attract record numbers of area bookworms to the 14th Annual Bargain Booksale, April 10 - 12, with all proceeds pledged to benefit the library. The Sam Houston Coliseum, corner of Bagby and Walker, will be transformed into a vast bazaar with more than 70,000 books of all kinds for sale, most for $1 or less.

Shoppers will find books priced in three categories: hardbacks for $1; paperbacks and children's books for 50 cents; and "better" books for $2.00 or higher. The "better" books include reference works useful for the student or business person, beautiful "coffee-table" type books and many other special finds.

An auction on April 11 will encourage true bargain hunters to compete for special selections, including encyclopedias, reference materials, and books with distinctive qualities.

There is no admission charge to participate in the auction.

The 1991 booksale, attended by a crowd of over 6,000 bargain-hunters, raised more than $58,000 for the library.

"We hope to top that this year, because we have more stock than ever," said veteran Book Sale organizer Don Gray.
